

ANOTHER BRITISH PLANE STARTS OVERSEAS

FARMERS PLAN EXCURSION TO STATE COLLEGE

Will Visit "Aggies"
on Friday, June
the 27th.

Friday, June 27, is going to be a big day for many of the more progressive of Lee county's farmers, for it will be the occasion of an excursion to the Illinois State College of Agriculture, where over half a day will be spent in studying the ideal conditions which are prevalent at the state school, and which the authorities are working to make general on every farm throughout the state.

A special train, leaving Dixon at 6 a. m. and stopping at all Lee county points and at Mendota, will carry the excursionists, who must number 125, and will return about 10:30 p. m. The excursion is under the auspices of the Lee Mo. Soil Improvement Assn., and all farmers who expect to make the trip should notify Farm Adviser Griffith at his office in Amboy at once.

A circular from the Soil Improvement Assn. office lists the following things to be seen at the state college:

1. A 1,200 acre experimental farm.
2. 1,217 head of live stock, including pure bred herds and experimental stock.
3. Also 2,599 chickens, ducks, and turkeys, etc.
4. The oldest experimental field in the United States with continuous corn since 1879, corn and oats rotation and corn, oats and clover rotation for the corn.

TO TEACH DIXON PUPILS MILITARY COURSE NEXT YEAR

War Dept. to Furnish Instructor for Work in Dixon.

Negotiations are in progress for the establishment of a student military corps in the Dixon High schools, to start next fall. The Board of Education of Dixon is in communication with the war department with a view of inaugurating such a course in the local schools.

The war department is furnishing army officers for the instruction of classes of high school students in army training, in cities of 25,000 or more population. Sterling and Morrison, in Whiteside county, want the course in their high schools and a plan was conceived for the uniting of Dixon, Sterling and Morrison into one district, with one army officer as instructor. The war department evidently looks with favor upon this plan and recently sent an officer to Sterling to confer with members of the boards of education from Dixon, Sterling and Morrison, at which time preliminary plans were discussed.

Besides training the high school students in military drill and tactics, the instructor would establish a summer camp for the high school students of the district during a certain part of the vacation period.

The government, in promoting this plan throughout the country, furnishes one uniform a year to every student who joins the class, and also furnishes all rifles and other necessary equipment.

JOHNSON WRITING A HISTORY OF LIFE

R. E. Johnson, colored, who was sentenced to pay with his life for the murder of George Bush, also colored, has been removed from the death cell and again enjoys the companionship of the other prisoners in the county jail. Since being notified of the action of Governor Lowden in extending his sentence he appears more cheerful and converses quite freely with the other prisoners.

Johnson is devoting the greater part of his time to the writing of a history of the life. The manuscript he keeps concealed carefully in his cell and has taken none of the prisoners or authorities at the jail into his confidence nor has he revealed any part of the work to which his time is being devoted.

MOTORCYCLE 'GYPSIES' PASSED THRU DIXON

A party of Freepot motorcycle enthusiasts passed through Dixon this morning about 9 o'clock on their way from Freepot to LaSalle and Starved Rock, participating in the national "gypsy tour," which is held annually and includes a two day trip for motorcyclists caring to participate.

The Freepot delegation numbered 16 machines in all, 15 of which carried side cars, and were principally of the Harley-Davidson make. They left Freepot at 8 o'clock, arriving here shortly after 9. They rested here for a short period and proceeded south to Amboy, Sublette, Mendota and LaSalle. They will return tomorrow evening.

OLD BARBER SHOP

H. O. Wheeler to Retire Soon—Shop
There Since 1853.

Harry O. Wheeler, veteran barber of Dixon, who for 27 consecutive years has conducted a tonorial parlor at 106 West First street, will retire from this stand on August 1 of the present year, having accepted a position as Lee county representative for the Hawks' nurseries of Milwaukee, Wis. He will continue to make his home and headquarters in Dixon.

The building in which Mr. Wheeler has been so successful for 27 years is the oldest established business location not only in Dixon but in Lee county. The building when built was occupied by Anton Julien, well remembered by the older residents of Dixon, who started a barber shop there in the fall of 1853. Mr. Julien continued in business in this location as a barber shop until Dec. 21, 1881 when Mr. Wheeler bought the business, purchasing it outright from the pioneer barber. On January 1, 1892, Mr. Wheeler opened the shop which he has operated continuously ever since and is about to retire from.

CHARGES AGAINST C. WICHER GO OVER TO SEPT. BOARD MEET

Dixon Bridge Plea Also Goes Over Until
That Session.

With the application of Supt. Clyde Wichar for re-appointment as head of the Lee County Infirmary laid on the table until September, following the filing of sensational charges against him, as outlined in last evening's Telegraph, and the Lee Co. Home committee of the board instructed to investigate, those charges fully, the board of supervisors late yesterday afternoon adjourned without taking further action in the matter.

The charges against the head of the county farm are by far the most serious matters that have come before the supervisors in many years, and because of that, ample time for full investigation has been allowed.

Coroner Was Not Called

TREATY WILL BE HANDED GERMANS ON NEXT MONDAY

Will Be Allowed Two Days to Accept or Reject Terms.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, June 14.—The council of five continued the work of editing the revised peace treaty this morning, at the same time enabling Baron Makino, the Japanese representative, to acquaint himself with the document. The work is nearly completed and it is believed the treaty will go to the revision committee late tonight. It is said that it will be printed and ready for delivery to the Germans Monday or Tuesday.

It is the present plan of the council to renew consideration of the Austrian terms Monday. Representatives of Turkey will be received Tuesday.

If no other developments arise, President Wilson probably will make his trip to Brussels between Wednesday and the expiration of the German time limit.

Some modifications were made by the council yesterday in the labor covenant in the peace treaty.

The existing labor situation in various countries, coupled with clever German tactics, had resulted in this part of the treaty becoming one of the principal points of attack in the counter proposals. The situation caused a lengthy discussion which resulted in certain modifications in the convention.

The allied reply to the German proposals, it developed today, will lay particular stress upon the character of the permanent reparations commission. It will be explained to the Germans that this commission is not a tyrannical body, but that it will administer its duties in a spirit of fairness and helpfulness, so as to facilitate Germany's economic reconstruction.

It is learned that the short time limit given Germany for a reply is largely due to the Germans themselves. They are understood to have said they would not require more than five days to reach a decision. (Friday night's dispatches said only two days would be given for the answer, with three days of grace before the armistice was suspended in the event of a German refusal to sign.)

While reports from Germany on the prospects of Germany's signing the treaty are lacking in clarity, it is known that the council is acting on the belief that there is no general feeling on the part of the masses against German acceptance of the terms. An air of optimism pervades the council in this respect.

GET TWO DAYS' TIME

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, Friday, June 13.—(Delayed.)—Confidence was expressed tonight by the British, French and American delegations to the peace conference that the reply to the German counter proposals will be completed and delivered to the Germans Monday, with a provision that the Germans will be given two days in which to answer. With three days of grace before the armistice is suspended, there would be a resumption of hostilities Saturday, June 21, if the Germans refuse to sign.

Small Powers Protest
The indisposition of the council of four to submit the revised German treaty to a plenary session of the conference before sending it to the Germans, is however, causing another protest from the small powers, which may force the calling of another plenary session which would cause further delay. The small powers are dissatisfied with assurances that the changes made in the treaty are slight and many of the delegates are insisting on an opportunity to consider the treaty fairly before it is presented to the enemy peace mission.

DISPUTE OVER KOLCHAK.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Paris, Friday, June 13.—(Delayed.)—There is a division of opinion in peace conference circles as to the degree of recognition accorded the anti-Russian government at Omsk by the note sent to Admiral Kolchak by the council of five. Some delegates insist that if the action of the council were really a recognition of the Kolchak government it should be given representation in the conference. They hold that even partial recognition would entitle the Omsk government to send delegates to Paris. Others maintain the conference cannot give recognition to any government as individual nations must take such action separately, as was done with Poland, which has no representation in the conference as yet.

MATHIAS WILL MOVE GROCERY NEXT WEEK

Lee Mathias on Monday will move his grocery and market from the present location in the Rosbrook building on Peoria Ave., to the Dodge building on Galena Ave., formerly occupied by Sullivan drug store. The new room has been remodeled to meet Mr. Mathias' needs and he anticipates having one of the most modern and convenient stores in the city.

Miss Helen Coe, of Sterling, was a guest of Dixon friends Thursday evening.

FLAG DAY, 1919

"Tis the Star Spangled Banner, Oh Long May It Wave."

Today, Flag Day, will be observed with appropriate exercises at the City Park on Second street at 7 o'clock this evening, and very citizen is invited to attend the short service, which will be under the auspices of Dixon lodge No. 779 B. P. O. Elks.

Flag Day commemorates the birth of Old Glory as adopted by Congress on June 14, 1777, and every patriotic American should participate in the celebration of the birthday if possible.

The Elks have extended an invitation to all returned soldiers and sailors, whether in uniform or not, to meet with them at the Elks club at 6:45 o'clock this evening and march with them to the park for the exercises. The parade will consist of the Dixon Municipal Band, Co. F, returned soldiers and sailors, Elks and the officers.

At the park the lodge ritual in tribute to the flag will be followed after which there will be a short address by Rev. E. C. Lumsden, pastor of the Methodist church. His subject will be "Old Glory First."

ARMY TRAIN COMING TO DIXON; WILL SHOW DETAILS CAMP LIFE

The citizens of Dixon and a number of the cities in Northern Illinois are due to get a close-up view of army field life in the next few weeks as the result of a recruiting trip being put on by Capt. David S. Parry, in charge of the office at Camp Grant. A truck train will leave there Monday for a tour of northern Illinois, which will cover 30 days and reach a number of counties. The trucks will carry men from all branches of the service and will illustrate on a small scale, the activities of that particular branch. Tents and a complete field kitchen will be taken along and the party will camp in the various towns while enroute and will live under field regulations. A bugler will accompany the party and Reveille and Retreat will be held as usual in camp. As all of the party are "old timers" it will be necessary to sound mess call but once. The cooks are non-coms from the Cooks & Bakers School which is sufficient guarantee that the men will be well fed.

Carrier Pigeons On Duty.

Unique methods of sending daily reports to Camp Grant will be used—a coop of carrier pigeons from the Signal Corps being the messengers. On a recent drive held at Beloit, Wis., this method was used very successfully. A wireless outfit will also be installed on one of the trucks, so if it is "torpedoed" an S. O. S. can be sent out. As the trip does not extend into Wisconsin or in the direction of Janesville, this is not anticipated, however.

Airplanes Visit Camp.

The airplanes now on duty at Camp Grant will make trips each day to the town that the party is camped in and will also "deliver" recruits for the air service to Camp Grant. In this connection the party will carry six large searchlights and where it is practical, night landings will be made by the planes, thus adding to the interest of the work.

Advance notices have been sent to a number of towns on the route of the trip and from the large number of inquiries that have been received, a great deal of interest is being taken. Patriotic and civic bodies are arranging to show the party a pleasant time while they are in their town. Lieut. Joseph L. Cullen, Q. M. C., has had a force of men busy for the past two days painting bunks, arranging canvas and other paraphernalia to be used on the trip. Capt. Guy Skinner, of the recruiting office, who will have charge of the party on the road, has arranged the personnel of his recruiting squad and says he has a live wire bunch of "go getters." The present schedule of towns include the following: Roscoe, Hunter, Chemung, Harvard, Marengo, Genoa, Sycamore, DeKalb, Creston, Rochelle, Ashton, Franklin Grove, Dixon, Grand Detour, Oregon, Polo, Forreston and Freeport. Some changes may be necessary on the above route due to road conditions, interest shown in the event by the towns, etc.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 14.—A statement blaming consumers in part for the high cost of meat was issued today by the retail meat dealers of the United States. WIRE STRIKE GROWS IN SCOPE; RAILROAD OPERATORS TO JOIN

Commercial Messages to
Be Refused By Rail Men
Over Nation.

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, Ill., June 14.—The commercial telegraphers strike, now in its fourth day, was given valuable assistance, according to union officials, through the order, effective today, to railroad telegraphers throughout the country to decline to handle messages from the Western Union and Postal companies. Officials of the telegraph companies said refusal of railroad operators to handle commercial messages would not interfere materially with wire traffic, as only a small part of their business was handled at railroad offices.

Number Return to Work.

Union officials asserted that more men were added to the ranks of the strikers during the last 24 hours, while the company officials claimed that "quite a number" who walked out have returned to work.

Brokers Division May Remain.

"The question of a sympathetic strike was thoroughly discussed," said F. A. Davis, president of the brokers' division, "and it was the consensus of opinion that no good could be accomplished by a sympathetic strike. The real issue consists of the matter of broker men handling 'contraband matter' in the form of exchange news and quotations which are furnished by the commercial companies against which the nation wide strike has been called."

CAPTAIN ALCOCK IN VICKERS-VIMY PLANE 'HOPS OFF'

Expects to Land Near Ireland By Marine
Navigation.

BULLETIN

By Associated Press Leased Wire
St. Johns, Nf., June 14.—The Vickers-Vimy biplane started on its trans-Atlantic flight at 4:13 o'clock this afternoon, Greenwich time. The Vickers-Vimy machine carried two men, Captain Jack Alcock, a Britisher, as pilot, and Lieutenant Arthur Whitten Brown, an American, as navigator.

Is Small Plane.

The Vickers-Vimy machine, which started on a trans-Atlantic flight today, has a wing spread of only 67 feet and is equipped with two 350 horsepower Rolls Royce motors, said to be capable of developing a speed of more than 100 miles an hour. The capacity of the machine tanks was recently enlarged to 865 gallons and the lubricating oil tanks to 50 gallons, which is believed sufficient to carry the plane 2,440 miles, under normal weather conditions. A wireless telegraphy set capable of sending and receiving messages over comparatively long distances, is part of the plane's equipment.

Captain Jack Alcock, the pilot, was among the British pioneers in aviation. He obtained his flying certificate in 1912 and joined the royal naval air service immediately upon the outbreak of the war. He acted as an instructor at first, but was later sent to the Turkish front where he held the record for long distance bombing raids. He was later captured by the Turks and held prisoner until the armistice was signed.

Use Marine Methods.

St. Johns, Nf., June 14.—By applying methods of marine navigation to an air flight, Lieutenant Arthur Whitten Brown expects to fly across the Atlantic in the Vimy Bomber machine, piloted by Captain Jack Alcock, and to "make a handfall" within twenty or thirty miles of his objective in Ireland or England.

Lieutenant Brown was an American electrical engineer before he joined the British Flying Service in 1914.

LEWIS ATTACKS THOSE WHO DARE OPPOSE WILSON

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Kansas City, Mo., June 14.—"The spectacle of the United States divided in its support of its president while he is fighting for his country on foreign soil invites every enemy in every part of the world to oppose our policies and insist on its own—all to the humiliation of the United States," declared ex-Senator James Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, in flag day address here today.

"The president of the United States," he continued "while representing our people abroad as a nation is not serving as a spokesman in Europe for all Americans. What our nation needs then, is more national patriotism and less political partyism."

"This nation will come from the peace table without a friend. Those nations that are not of the so-called allies will go away preaching revenge against the United States as the author of all their losses, each nation will hold the United States responsible for what it does not get, however, much it may obtain."

"Germany will charge us with responsibility for burdening its nation with debt. Some Russians will charge us with failing here, and others will complain that we prevented development of liberty there. Japan, controlling the orient, will retaliate whenever possible against our policy of excluding her people, and will sit with oriental patience quietly awaiting the hour when she may join with brooding Russia and revengeful Germany in opposition to the United States of America."

Errors galore were chalked up against the Presbyterians while the Methodists gave their pitcher fine support. McNicol pitched for the Methodists and had the Presbyterians hitting them into the hands of the fielders. Tidball pitched a good game but his support was very ragged. The Presbyterians were shut out in the last four innings after a good start. HOPEFUL THAT CITY WILL WIN DISPUTE IN ELECTRIC RATES

City Officials Pleased with Hearing Held in Chicago.

That Dixon and several other northern Illinois cities will win a victory over the Illinois Northern Utilities company in the hearing on light and power rates held before the state utilities commission in Chicago this week is the opinion of a number of city officials who attended the hearing.

Although the findings of the commission will not be made public for about a month many of those who attended the hearing are confident that the commission will do away with temporary increases granted the utilities company in June 1918.

On account of the high expense of operation at that time the company was granted an increase of one cent per kilowatt hour, and a fifteen per cent increase on all power rates. Attorney Jayne predicts that the new prices schedule to be established by the commission may be even lower than that in existence before the war.

Production Cost Decreased

The arguments of Freeport, Oregon, Sterling and Dixon, the municipalities interested in the rates, were based upon the decrease in cost of operation of the plants immediately after the temporary increase was granted. It was pointed out that within a month after the increase was granted the complete rehabilitation of the modern efficient water-power plants at Dixon, Oregon and lower Sterling were effected, and that consequently the cost of production per kilowatt hour was greatly decreased. When the increase was granted all these plants were in the course of construction or were being overhauled, and the records of the company showed that no profit was made at that time.

But within 30 days water flowed through the turbines of the rehabilitated plants, and the company was making a net return of 13 per cent, according to Attorney Jayne of Freeport. This profit will be reduced to at least seven per cent, with two per cent allowed for depreciation, Attorney Jayne thinks, and he said that the rates might be cut down to two-thirds of the present schedule.

The chief argument for the Illinois Northern Utilities company was based upon its statements that it bought the plants before the utilities commission had been created, and paid a high price for them. The company claims that it is entitled to a just and fair rate of return upon the actual investment, rather than upon the physical valuation of the property.

It is also possible that, if the commission thinks that the temporary increase which has been in force during the last year was not merited by the cost of production, the customers in all the cities affected will be given a rebate on their accounts paid while the increase was in effect.

MAY GIVE REBATE

It is also possible that, if the commission thinks that the temporary increase which has been in force during the last year was not merited by the cost of production, the customers in all the cities affected will be given a rebate on their accounts paid while the increase was in effect.

It is also possible that, if the commission thinks that the temporary increase which has been in force during the last year was not merited by the cost of production, the customers in all the cities affected will be given a rebate on their accounts paid while the increase was in effect.

STARTED WORK ON PAVEMENT FRIDAY

Contractor Meaps of Moline, who has the contract for paving the Lincoln Highway between Dixon and Sterling, yesterday closed the road and began actual work on the excavation for the improvement. The three wells which are being drilled to furnish water for the improvement are reaching depths where water may be struck at any time, and Mr. Meaps feels certain they will be furnishing water in abundance before the excavations are completed.

Foch Demands Free Passage for Polish Troops in Germany

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Coblenz, Friday, June 13.—(Delayed.)—An ultimatum demanding the immediate continuation of the movement of Polish troops across Germany has been given by Marshal Foch, according to dispatches received here from Spa.

Orders were issued at Berlin several days ago to hold up the Polish troop trains. One was held at Coblenz, another at Treves, two at Ems and eight in the interior of Germany. The transfer of Polish troops from France to Poland began about six weeks ago and was due to be completed on June 17.

A Berlin dispatch received on Friday night stated that Matthias Erzberger, chairman of the German armistice commission at Spa, had written General Dupont, chief of the French mission in Berlin, declaring that Poland intended to distribute two divisions of General Haller's troops along the frontier. It was said that Erzberger had protested that this was opposed to the terms of the armistice and that unless Poland abandoned her purpose Germany would be compelled to suspend the movement of the Polish army across Germany.

300 Special Trains to Haul Fight Fans to Toledo July 4th

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Toledo, June 14.—At least 300 special trains will be run to Toledo for the heavyweight championship contest between Jack Dempsey and Jess Willard on July 4, Tex Rickard, promoter of the contest said today.

Railway officials have assured Rickard that there is ample trackage in the switch yards along Maumee Bay to accommodate at least 500 standard sleeping cars.

If the cut over Dempsey's damaged eye is sufficiently healed the challenger will be allowed to resume boxing tomorrow, Manager Jack Kearns announced today.

Sailor Bill Ketchel, the young heavyweight, who joined Willard's staff of sparring partners yesterday, is on his way back to New York today. Willard hung a left hook into Ketchel's mid section and he allowed that he had enough. The champion has hopes of inducing some other candidates into the camp next week.

Miss U. S. Writer is Held By British

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Coblenz, Friday, June 13.—(Delayed.)—Officers who have heard the particulars regarding the imprisonment of Robert Minor, the American magazine writer and cartoonist, say that Minor was arrested by the French at the request of the British military authorities who have been pressing for action against propagandists.

According to information in the hands of Americans, Minor wrote several pamphlets in Duesseldorf and had them printed there. It is asserted that the pamphlets were of radical tendencies.

It is said here that the British have notified American army officers that they do not desire to take further action in Minor's case. Minor was still in jail tonight but it is understood there are no formal charges against him.

Steward appeared before that body yesterday afternoon and in response to questions stated that he had seen accounts in the Telegraph of deaths of Lee county people a number of times when he thought the deaths should have been investigated by the coroner, and he also said he had never been called to the county home, but he should have been if the accounts set forth in the affidavits are true.

To Sell Wicher Fowls

In reference to the charge that Mr. Wicher has been keeping privately owned chickens, ducks, turkeys and geese on the farm under permission he claims to have received from a former County Home committee, Supervisor Bauer moved the adoption of a resolution which puts all such fowls under the charge of the Co. Home committee, which committee was instructed to sell them and report at the September meeting. The motion carried unanimously.

No Help for Cemetery

The appeal of Mayor Smith and other Dixon city officials for financial aid in maintaining the three lots in Oakwood cemetery which the city of Dixon has set aside for the burial of soldiers of the world war who may have no other place, was denied by the county dads on the ground that the care of the soldiers was a matter for each township of the county to settle individually.

Bridge Petition to Committee

The petition of the city of Dixon for financial aid in the erection of a new bridge over Rock river at this place, presented by Mayor Smith and other city officials yesterday morning was referred to the Road & Bridge committee with instructions to report at the September meeting.

Poland Reconciled to Plebiscite Over Silesia's Disposal

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Paris, Friday, June 13.—(Delayed.)—The Poles have become somewhat reconciled to the proposed plebiscite in Silesia by informal assurance which they have received that American troops will, if possible, be assigned to occupy the contested and disputed area pending the vote, to assure a fair and unimpaired expression of the people's wishes.

They have feared that unless allied troops, preferably American, are moved promptly into the plebiscite area the German authorities would remain in virtual control almost up to the day of voting and would be able materially to influence the result.

The revision of the Polish-German frontier will be a give and take affair. The Germans will not profit one-sidedly, but will be required to surrender certain predominantly Polish districts northwest of Posen and east of Breslau.

which the first draft left outside the Polish frontier in exchange for the coast section of Pomerania, Silesia, on the line between West Prussia and Posen, with its important railroad connections, and a strip of districts from Guhrau to Miltitz, between Posen and Silesia, which have been awarded to Germany by the boundary commission. The new boundary will be more strictly ethnographic, but less direct and practicable than the old one.

DIXON MAN AT FRONT FOR OVER 3 YEARS

Mrs. W. J. Passmore of this city has received word from her son Corp. Passmore, who has been visiting his sister Mrs. Ridgetown, Canada, since his arrival from overseas service to the effect that he will arrive home some time this week. At the outbreak of the war he was one of the first to enlist in the Canadian Cavalry. He was at the front for over three years and came out without even a scratch, although twice his horse was shot from under him.

Motor Transport to Cross United States on Lincoln Highway

By Associated Press Leased Wire

Washington, D. C., June 14.—Plans were completed today by the motor transport corps for the first trans-continental trip of an army motor truck train. It will start from Washington, July 7, and end at San Francisco from 47 to 60 days later. Before the machines get away President Wilson is expected to dedicate a milestone in front of the white house to represent the starting points for highways radiating out of Washington.

The itinerary of the trip has not yet been completely worked out but so far the truck train will follow the Lincoln highway with detours at a number of points. It is the intention to utilize two full strength motor transport corps truck companies to operate the train.

In the train will be five passenger cars, 35 trucks of all army types, two ambulances, 35 motorcycles, two tank trucks, two kitchen trailers, two water tank trucks, one engineer shop truck, one officer work truck and one search light truck.

WHEN YOU ENTER BY TELEPHONE ANNOUNCE YOUR NAME

Saying "Hello," "What number is this?" and "Who is speaking?" wastes your time and that of the person you call.

As soon as your party answers, the correct practice is to ANNOUNCE YOUR NAME and start the call in the same direct manner that you use in a face-to-face meeting.

Say: "Mr. Jones speaking. I should like to talk with Mr. Smith," or, "Jones speaking, Mr. Smith, please," or "If Mr. Smith has answered with his name, say, 'This is Mr. Jones.'"

And when you answer a telephone ALWAYS announce your name first.

THE TRUTH about the Silver Situation

(One of a series of Five Articles, appearing in this Paper, covering the Silver situation and arriving at the logical solution of the problem.)

Article 3---Silver Shares the Master Fortune Builders

The Government fixing the price of silver at $1.01½ did not encourage the production as the silver producers felt that it was an unjust discrimination. It being pointed out that the Allies were able to make from $1.33 to $1.35 in coins from each ounce supplied by authority of Congress, to help make up the deficiency between the coinage demand and the world's shortage. The price setting also deferred the plans of those anticipating the reopening of the old silver producers.

Silver was released from Governmental control May 6th; and the price advanced quickly to high of $1.23½ within a week. The bullion hoarders immediately threw unlimited amounts into the market, breaking the price, and as this goes to the press the market closed at $1.11½. This slump, however, is but temporary as the price will soar again to $1.29, perhaps higher and remain there. Bullion Brokers are now awaiting advices from Shanghai, as the price bid from that quarter of the world, following the lifting of the ban here, will give an idea of the urgency of the Oriental demand.

A careful study of the situation, reveals the fact that silver and the silver shares, will enter upon an era of speculation such as has never before been witnessed since the precious white metal was discovered at Cerro De Paso in 1630. The outlook now is for the greatest market for silver shares ever known.

There can be only one way out of the present predicament and that is to reopen the old silver producers, that were compelled to suspend operations when silver slumped. The way has been paved and avenues opened for immense dividend possibilities, and those who own the right stocks will take profits—exceeding the wildest expectations of several years ago.

A silver boom of gigantic proportions is now in the making, and the silver shares will advance rapidly—wildly—the boom will spread like wildfire throughout the entire world. There will soon be a mad, frenzied scramble for silver shares, and those taking advantage of the situation will reap all the benefits of the actual fortunemaking markets.

The silver shares will be the master fortune builders of the future. New silvers will soon spring up over night like magic, when it is fully realized that the demand exceeds the production and the public will make millions. While all the old listed silvers are very good buys at this time, they do not offer such a wide range of speculation as the new ones will at their lows, as they are financed and brought on the market. The old ones do not present to the investor the opportunity to make their rightful profit.

Men responsible for high finance will calmly state that any investment paying more than 6 per cent is treacherous, hazardous and can not be safe, but the fact is that if promoters, big and little were compelled to tell the truth when offering stock, investors would never receive less than 10 per cent and upwards of 100 per cent. Today silver is a small man's game, tomorrow it will be a big man's game. Private wires from stock exchange centers show that the markets are gradually being cleaned up of the silver shares at the present price. This action is the forerunner of the coming silver boom.

A complete survey of the list of silver is necessary to appreciate the unprecedented demand and the price for the product—to see the future possibilities of many mines which were formerly non-commercial to be placed in operation. Establishing the fact that a new fortune era is within sight. The coming silver boom is a reality, and not a prediction.

It is the purpose of these articles to direct the attention of the public to the soundest kind of a mining investment, which should yield excellent returns for many years to come. An investment opportunity that has more merit—more real merit—than has been offered for public subscription in recent years, in fact it is without a parallel. The price at which it will be offered will enable everyone to participate equally.

Before announcing the new silver, there will appear in this paper an article relative to the present day evil stock methods used to pick the public's pockets.

WAS ARTISTIC AFFAIR—

With all the settings of a fairy scene, smooth green sward, blooming shrubbery, the brightly gleaming river, the fitful light of fireflies as the sunlight waned and the moon rose over the river, the pupils of Miss Beatrice Howell gave their interpretative and classic dances before the members of the Phidian Art club and their guests holding the annual picnic of the club at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. H. Ives last evening. And the dancers in their pretty colorful gowns, all designed by Miss Howell and largely made by her, seemed a part of the picture, fitting into the landscape as perfectly as the nymphs in Corot's picture. The Greek dancers, the Gipsy dancer, the Indian dancers, were all most appropriately garbed and, drafted into view from the shrubbery, seemed to be called as if by magic or the waft of a fairy queen's wand. Those taking part in the dances, all as graceful as could be, were Ruth Beebe, Louise Murphy, Helen Cahill, Louise Brewster, Frances Murphy, Endora Countryman, Helen Cahill, Catherine Durkin and Harriet Goodwin.

The dancing took place on the lawn of the Edward K. Howell home with the guests seated on the lawn, which joins and overlooks that of the Howell residence. A victrola furnished the music for the dances. About one hundred guests were present.

Other delightful numbers on the program, which followed the picnic supper, served with greater elaborateness and distinctness than the usual picnic supper, on tables on the lawn, was the quartet number, "The Soldier's Chorus," given by the Y. M. C. A. quartet, composed of Charles and Dorman Anderson, Elmer Rice, and John Ives, and the vocal solo, "Whisper and I Shall Hear," by Ciccolini, sung by Miss Seville Crawford, Clinton Ives accompanying upon the violin and Mrs. Elbert M. Goodsell upon the piano.

Reports of the state federation meeting at Peoria were given by Miss Murphy, Miss Geisenheimer, and Mrs. William H. Coppins, each treating some particular phase, in the business session for which the members of the club gathered at 4 o'clock. The main body of guests arrived at about 6 o'clock to be present at the supper which was served a little later.

KITCHEN SHOWER—

St. Margaret's Guild entertained with a kitchen shower Wednesday at the rectory of St. Luke's Episcopal church in honor of Miss Carmen Dement, whose marriage to Gordon Utley took place today. The dining room, where the shower was given, was decorated in peonies and syringas. A white parasol was suspended from the chandelier and it and the chandelier were both covered with the green and white of syringa branches. The parasol held the gifts, each wrapped and ribbons hanging over the edge in shower effect were drawn to secure the gifts. Candles lighted the dining room during the shower. Enjoyable refreshments were served during the evening. A large number of guild members participated in the happy affair.

SELLING SOLDIERS' CAKES—

The patriotic orders of the city held a cake sale yesterday in the Pratt-Reed Grocery store of the cakes remaining from the soldiers' dinner, given in the Elks' club Thursday evening. The ladies had planned to serve at least six hundred soldiers and only about three hundred fifty soldiers presented themselves for the excellent dinner prepared. Many cakes and pies remained uncut, and of these some were disposed of to the various restaurant keepers. The receipts from the sale will be turned in to the soldier-sailor fund.

GAVE DINNER PARTY—

The guests were the Misses Seville Crawford, Josephine Watts, Marguerite Watts, and Irene Miller and the Messrs. Robert Shaw, Dorman Anderson, Utley Noble, Cedric Fulton and Charles Anderson. The dinner honored Miss Stitzel's birthday. After the dinner the party motored to Grand Detour where they attended the dancing party given by the Frolickers' club of Dixon.

SEASON'S FIRST PARTY—

A big crowd attended the initial dancing party and opening of the Illinois hall and pavilion given by the Frolickers' club, of Dixon, at Grand Detour last evening. A number of Dixon, Sterling and Oregon couples enjoyed the dancing until an early hour this morning. The parties this summer are being given by Norman Sterling and Joseph Eichler of this city who have leased the hall for the season. The pavilion remains under the same management as last year.

The marriage of Miss Anna Marie Zimmerman, the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Zimmerman, and Albert J. Florschuetz, son of Mr. and Mrs. August Florschuetz, both families residing in Brooklyn township, Lee county, took place at high noon Wednesday in the Emmanuel Lutheran church at Compton. Over two hundred guests were present. Rev. Mr. Biederman, of Welland, read the service.

The church was beautiful in pink and white flowers and greenery and the same colors were used in the decorations of the bride's home where a five-course luncheon was served after the ceremony.

The bride was gowned in white satin and wore a veil caught with orange blossoms. Her attendants, her sister, Miss Adeline Zimmerman, and the groom's sister, Miss Ella Florschuetz, were gowned in pink Georgette crepe. Little Miss Politich served as flower girl, carrying flowers on a satin pillow. The bride also carried her flowers in the same manner. A niece of the groom, little Miss Florschuetz, carried the ring on a small pillow. Mr. Walter, of Mendota, and Mr. Gantz, of Welland, attended the groom. New vs. Old

THE Brunswick Method of Reproduction has established new standards of tone projection, due to two outstanding features—two departures from old methods.

The Ultona reproducer enables you to play all records at their best. Just a turn of the hand presents to each type the proper point and diaphragm, its exact position on the record, and the precise degree of pressure.

As no one record maker has all the desirable singers and entertainers, the advantages of the Ultona are easily appreciated.

The Brunswick Amplifier brings out tones hitherto lost and eliminates the usual metallic sounds, for it is built entirely of molded wood like a fine violin.

Let us explain all the features of The Brunswick to you. We shall gladly put it to any test you wish. But you shall be the judge of its superiorities.

The Goodrich More Mileage Message

Goodrich is making the burliest, sturdiest, most lasting tires the rubber industry has ever seen; and Goodrich knows it.

In every test of road-roughing to which tires can be put, Goodrich Tires have unfolded an endurance, an ability to take punishment, which has run into phenomenal mileage.

Confident in this knowledge and belief, Goodrich desires that all tire users share in the confidence of Goodrich, and the big mileage Goodrich Tires assure.

Therefore, Goodrich announces to present and future owners of its pneumatic tires—an adjustment basis of 6,000 miles for SAFETY TREADS, and 8,000 miles for SILVERTOWN CORDS, instead of the 3,500 and 5,000 miles, respectively, heretofore in force.

"BEST IN THE LONG RUN"

THE PROMOTER'S WIFE

NEIL'S CONSCIENCE TROUBLES HIM

CHAPTER CXIX

Gradually Neil became so engrossed in his business that he grudged every minute spent away from it. Even his garden was neglected and I did the best I could with it in the little time I could spare from my care of the house, and other work I had taken upon myself. My flowers suffered, but vegetables just at that time were very expensive, and more necessary to health than flowers. The cost of living had risen rapidly, and all we could save would mean that we would more quickly be out of debt. I was always tired in those few weeks of unaccustomed work. My arms and back ached so I could scarcely sleep. But not one penny would I spend for household help. Neil was struggling, working all day and half the night, to gain a foothold in the business world again; to make men forget that he had only escaped arrest by the 'skin of his teeth' as he expressed it. Why should I not do my share? I had unquestionably accepted his wealth, had spent his money lavishly, had lived an easy life when he prospered. Why should not I take my share of the burden?

Neil had insisted upon giving me an allowance. It was a fairly generous one considering everything.

"It will be better," he had said when I objected, "I can plan more satisfactorily if I know there will be no unforeseen demands. But make it do for everything, Bab. Thank goodness we both have clothes enough for some time."

We had, but Robert grew so fast that he was constantly in need of something. I added sewing for him, making everything he wore save only his coats and trousers. I economized in every way. I did the washing and ironing as well as the cleaning. When Neil—who supposed I hired a woman for the rough work spoke of my hands—I laid their changed appearance to gardening, and laughed because he complained of their roughness.

It may seem that, when so great an amount was owed, the little I could save would not materially help. But it was surprising how fast it counted up. Three people with no servants and a fine garden to supply all vegetables can live very reasonably if the housekeeper is economical. Many times a day I felt grateful that my mother had made me learn to cook; and that I had practiced that accomplishment in the first years of my married life. I made tasty dishes out of cheap cuts of meat, and my warmed-overs Neil declared were better than the first serving. I cut out sweets save occasionally, using fruit for dessert—when we had it.

But I was troubled. Neil had begun to lose his ruddy color gained when he worked in the garden. He had great dark circles under his eyes, and seemed tired, too tired to talk often. I argued with him, telling him if he became ill it would only take him the longer to pay off his debts. He replied:

"I haven't said much Bab, but I can't stop thinking how nearly I ruined your life and Robert's. I know that had it not been for Frederick I should now have been in jail serving my sentence like any other criminal. Sometimes I wake up in a cold sweat thinking about it, dreaming myself in behind prison bars, while you and Robert are ostracized because I wanted to get rich quick. Not that so much as by the riches I gained I wanted to show that I could do. I guess it is worse to have a great ambition directed into wrong channels, than it is to have no ambition at all."

"But you are doing all you can to repair the wrong—you did yourself as well as others," I tried to comfort.

"Yes, I am doing all I can. But somehow Bab I feel as if my soul had been scared. I guess my conscience is waking up. It was dormant all those years. I never thought or—cared how I was hurting others, how I was damning myself. But I have begun to see myself as I was: selfish, arrogant, thinking only of self, and self-aggrandizement. Even you and the boy were second, tho I loved you. I am beginning to hate myself, Neil Forbes, the jail bird—almost."

When he talked this way I was almost frantically anxious to soothe him. Yet I now know that he was at that time going thru a process of regeneration, and had it not been for his awakening our future would have been very different. So I worked, waited, and trusted that all would come right some day. I knew my husband's ability was unquestioned. I felt sure his honesty would never again be impeached.

BARBARA VISITS NEIL IN HIS NEW ENVIRONMENT.
CHAPTER CXX.

While we saw so little of each other at this time—he often came home just in time to go to bed—I think Neil and I were closer together in spirit than we ever had been since the first days of our marriage. He talked freely to me of his business, what he hoped to accomplish beyond what was expected of him. In all that was personal he let me share, while never talking of things which he thought belonged entirely to his employer. He had developed a nicety of discrimination and was not diverted from it in any particular.

One day I visited his office. I seldom went into town. It was not necessary, and so an extravagance. I was really surprised at the difference in the appearance of this and the old office, so immaculate. There the desk was clean, everything locked away. Here the desk a large table, strewn with papers, pigeon holes all bulging, a work desk indeed. Neil and the office force all working in harmony.

Someway the difference impressed me more than anything that had happened with the stability of Neil's work as compared with his promoting projects. Here was real business, work that had no need to be hidden, because no false representations were made. Office doors were not locked, although they were so busy one had to be announced. In every slightest detail was the contrast impressed upon me. I wondered why I had not suspected long before I did that all was not right. Had I, I might have tried to persuade Neil to—here my thoughts halted. I realized that—as Neil was then—nothing I could have said would have made any difference. As he was now, he would have seen the wrong and righted it himself without my interference.

Neil had charge of the manufacturing end of Mr. Frederick's business. It had grown enormously since he took charge, partly owing to the war. His commissions amounted to far more than his salary, far more than either of us had dared hope. But if his health should fall under the strain what good would it do? At times I thought I should have to appeal to Mr. Frederick, so anxious did I feel. Then I could not bear to ask anything more of him, and simply pleaded with Neil to be careful—to no avail.

Meanwhile the days and weeks were slipping by and Fate or whatever we may call it, was quietly, steadily, persistently working out her own ends and our salvation, as is her wont. Then all suddenly we, the United States, were in the war. It had happened almost overnight, at least the realization of it had to those of us who had scouted the idea that we could have by any possibility be drawn into the frightful vortex convulsing the Allied nations.

Among the first to offer his resources to our government was Mr. Frederick. His vast manufacturing plants were turned into munition works, his immense fortune put to work to save the world. And because of his quick grasp of affairs Neil was made chief of his many lieutenants. Frederick had said to him:

"You have vision Forbes, and that is what we need. You are executive, that is also what we need, and you have patriotism, which we must have. I believe you are the man for the place. Will you undertake it?"

The salary was very large, but Neil earned every bit of it. He would have liked to join the army, had his obligations not prevented; also his belief that he could do more for his country by remaining at his post. We talked it all over, and both agreed he was needed at home. He was too old for the draft so would not be taken.

If he had worked and slaved before he worked and slaved a hundred times as hard now. He had no thought of self, no care save to make good. His life was often endangered because of his business, and his outspoken views. Robert and I lived on in our little home, sometimes not seeing Neil for days together. Often the mills were threatened, they had found more than one bomb, and he kept a constant surveillance over all Frederick—who was now in Europe—had entrusted to him. When men who were working for the best interests of our government were mentioned, Neil's name was invariably near the top of the list. Men were forgetting he had been blacklisted because of his schemes. Events crowded one upon another so swiftly that yesterday was forgotten. It was today, now, that counted.

STRAWBERRY CROP SHORT; PRICE HIGH

The Bureau of Markets of the United States department of agriculture under date of June 6 issues the following statement on the strawberry crop this year:

The scarcity of strawberries this season is mainly responsible for prevailing high prices asked for this fruit. To date carlot shipments from producing sections are only one half of what they were last year at this time and about one fourth of the supply to date, two years ago. In addition to this fact labor, materials and transportation costs have also advanced, dispelling any hope that strawberries fresh or canned will rank any better than a high priced luxury this year.

James Cledon is pleasing his patrons with the Violano-Virtuoso, which he has just installed in his place of business. It is a self-playing violin with piano accompaniment, electrically operated and plays from rolls similar to the player-piano, and is so close to the human touch that no one could recognize it being mechanical without seeing the operation. Lovers of good music should not fail to hear the wonderful instrument.

HORSE MEAT AT $15 A POUND IN EASTERN RUSSIA

Omsk, Siberia, April 11, via Vladivostok, May 2.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—Horse meat sold at thirty rubles a pound, dog meat at twelve rubles, rye flour at twenty-two rubles and potatoes at seven rubles a pound in Moscow last February, according to an American, Mr. Dillon, who has just arrived here from that city. Mr. Dillon, who represented a large farm machinery firm, left Moscow February and arrived at Omsk after many difficulties on April 2.

▲ box of matches, if obtainable at all, costs fifteen rubles in Moscow, he said. A ruble before the war was normally worth fifty cents. Its value now is problematical owing to the vast amount of paper money which has been printed by the Bolshevik government.

Bolshevik workmen in Moscow who can find employment receive $50 to 1,500 rubles a month and Mr. Dillon said, are barely able to live through receiving special concessions in food stuff prices in Bolshevik stores. Non-Bolshevik, who cannot buy in such stores at any price are in desperate straits. There have been many cases of starvation and many suicides. There is much sickness, resulting from malnutrition and unsanitary conditions. Glanders is common and results from eating infected horse meat.

The city was full of unemployed workmen when Mr. Dillon left. There were 75,000 idle metal workers and a great number of idle textile workers. People were burning furniture to heat their rooms because of a shortage of firewood.

Moscow, according to Mr. Dillon, was half deserted. All signboards of formerly prosperous business houses had been removed after the places had been "nationalized." Drunkenness was prohibited under penalty of death.

GERMANY PLANS FORMATION NEW ARMY IN FUTURE

With the American Army of Occupation, May 17.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—German military experts are publishing in German periodicals various suggestions for the organization of a new German army.

One plan is proposed by Major von Francois who commanded a corps in the Argonne opposite the United States army last fall. His ideas have been republished in numerous German newspapers and magazines.

He proposes that 500,000 men should be drafted to service under arms each year, one-half on April 1 and the other 250,000 on October 1. Every man capable of performing manual labor would be subject to military duty for one year beginning at his twentieth year.

The 500,000 annually drafted would be used to defend the country from attack and preserve order in the interior, he urges. All others capable of working would be drafted also on April 1st, but after receiving a short course in labor battalions to be employed in social and branches of industry which have been taken over by the government. These men would thus be engaged in productive activity which would pay for their own support and contribute to that of the armed forces.

General von Francois advocates an army drawn up along the lines of the old model, saying:

"In the training and development of the men democratic innovations should be avoided, and the old military principles should be maintained. One object should be the establishment of the highest possible standard of discipline. The authority of the officers as a class must be restored. The means of enforcing discipline must also be re-established by reviving the military regulations, the court martial system, and the obligation to salute. The civilian penal code is not well adapted for use in the army. Activities of the general staff and of the war department must not be curtailed."

The general said the Germans insist upon being permitted to organize their own military establishment in the foregoing manner. If necessary, he said, they should refuse to sign the peace treaty rather than relinquish any part of this program.

PLACE ENGLAND ON ELECTRICAL BASIS AT ONCE

London, Eng., May 11.—(Correspondence of the Associated Press.)—England is preparing to provide herself with cheap and abundant electricity for heating, lighting and manufacturing purposes at an initial cost of approximately $100,000,000. The bill to accomplish that result has been introduced in Parliament by the Home Secretary and with the endorsement of the government as well as of people of all classes, it is expected to become a law in the very near future.

The plan for placing the country on an electrical basis provides for its division into districts, each district to be in charge of a commission. This body, whose members are to hold office at the pleasure of the King, will be empowered to acquire generating plants and transmission lines already built and to build such plants and lines as it may deem necessary. The commissioners are to conduct experiments for the purpose of improving methods of supply for which purpose they will be empowered to call to their assistance an advisory committee of unquestioned experts.

It is not the purpose of the government to build all the electrical apparatus entering the country but private corporations entering the field must obtain the consent of the government and abide by its regulations.

Water power will be extensively used in generating electricity to reduce the cost and to stimulate its use for manufacturing and domestic purposes.

It is also said that within a reasonable time every railroad in the country will be electrified.

THE CHIROPRACTOR'S OBLIGATION TO THE PUBLIC HEALTH

"Though Physicians gain their living principally through the prevalence of disease, they have ever been active in seeking to control, prevent and eradicate this foe of mankind." (Rupert Blue, Surgeon-General, United States Public Health Service, in June issue "Modern Medicine.")

No branch of the Healing Profession has been more active in this than the Chiropractic Profession. We have always tried to maintain the highest efficiency, improve our methods, keep abreast of every new movement, promote every important activity that would help raise the standard of health, maintain strict obedience to the laws governing contagious and infectious diseases, cooperate in every way with the health authorities, educate the community in the best and safest way, not only to gain but to maintain health, to place community welfare above self-interest, to seek to discover the underlying social and economical causes of the illness of patients.

Chiropractic has made good in all these things, and we are progressing rapidly to better, bigger things. The future will see Chiropractic universally accepted as the best, safest, sanest and quickest way to regain and maintain "Health." Chiropractors are specialists in their work, devoting all their time and study to this one method of healing, using no other methods at all. This assures you of good, experienced, practical work on your own individual case. By using Chiropractic alone, we know whether the work is applicable to your case, or not, and we tell you so. Our work in Dixon is proof of the good that it can do, even in cases that have been considered incurable. No need to try it, as it has been proven thoroughly good and reliable. GLASS OF SALTS IF YOUR KIDNEYS HURT

Eat less meat if you feel Backache or have Bladder trouble—Salts fine for Kidneys.

Meat forms uric acid which excites and overworks the kidneys in their efforts to filter it from the system. Regular eaters of meat must flush the kidneys occasionally. You must relieve them like you relieve your bowels; removing all the acids, waste and poison, else you feel a dull misery in the kidney region, sharp pains in the back or sick headache, dizziness, your stomach sour, tongue is coated and when the weather is bad you have rheumatic twinges. The urine is cloudy, full of sediment; the channels often get irritated, obliging you to get up two or three times during the night.

To neutralize these irritating acids and flush off the body's urinous waste get about four ounces of Jad Salts from any pharmacy; take a table-spoonful in a glass of water before breakfast for a few days and your kidneys will then act fine and bladder disorders disappear. This famous salt is made from the acid of grapes and lemon juice, combined with lithia, and has been used for generations to clean and stimulate sluggish kidneys and stop bladder irritation. Jad Salts is inexpensive; harmless and makes a delightful effervescent lithia-water drink which millions of men and women take now and then, thus avoiding serious kidney and bladder diseases.

Edgar Hoff returned home Thursday evening from Cornell college, Mt. Vernon, Ia., to spend his summer vacation.

Mr. and Mrs. Dehl, of Chapman,

Hair that loses its color and lustre, or when it fades, turns gray, dull and lifeless, is caused by a lack of sulphur in the hair. Our grandmother made up a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur to keep her locks dark and beautiful, and thousands of women and men who value that even color, that beautiful dark shade of hair which is so attractive, use only this old-time recipe.

Nowadays we get this famous mixture improved by the addition of other ingredients by asking at any drug store for a bottle of "Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound," which darkens the hair so naturally, so evenly, that nobody can possibly tell it has been applied. You just dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. By morning the gray hair disappears; but what delights the ladies with Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is that, besides beautifully darkening the hair after a few applications, it also brings back the gloss and lustre and gives it an appearance of abundance.

Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Compound is a delightful toilet requisite to impart color and a youthful appearance to the hair. It is not intended for the cure, mitigation or prevention of disease.

CROP DAMAGE IS CAUSE OF HIGHER PRICE FOR CORN

By Associated Press Leased Wire
Chicago, June 14.—Fresh strength developed in the corn market today owing largely to crop damage reports. It was said excessive moisture had made replanting on an unusual scale requisite especially on bottom lands. Besides, country offerings to arrive were light. Opening prices, which ranged from the same as yesterday's finish to 1 1/2¢ higher, with July 1 3/4¢ to 1 7/8¢ and Sept. 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/4¢, were followed by slight further gains and then something of a reaction.

Partook of the firmness of corn. After opening 1/2¢ off to 1/4¢ advance including July at 69¢ to 69 1/2¢, the market held within a narrow range.

Lard went to a new high price record, influenced by upturns in the value of hogs and grain. There was but little trading in pork or ribs.

Profit taking sales weakened the market temporarily. The close nevertheless was firm 3/4¢ to 1 1/2¢ net higher, with July 1 3/4¢ to 1 7/8¢ and Sept. 1 1/2¢ to 1 1/4¢.

WEEKLY GRAIN REVIEW.

Chicago, Ill., June 14.—Crop scares and diminishing receipts have made corn prices this week run up to a new top level for the season. Compared with a week ago, values in the corn market this morning were 2 1/2¢ to 6 1/2¢ higher, and oats showed gains of 1 1/2¢ to 3 1/4¢. At the same time, provisions had risen 42¢ to $2.00.

Bullish sentiment which developed in the corn market was checked for a while by the re-establishment of the 200,000 bushel limit as the maximum of trading for any single interest. Federal reserve banking officials' efforts to restrain undue speculation counted temporarily also as a bearish influence.

At this juncture, however, disquieting crop reports together with evidence of a falling-off in the arrival of supplies turned the market strongly upward. Excessive moisture formed one of the principal sources of the anxiety that led to many bullish estimates on crop losses, and there was an unusual broadening out of demand which was further stimulated by a nearby continuous ascent of the hog market.

Uneasiness over the crop outlook stirred up activity and strength in oats as well as in corn.

High price records were broken again and again by lard. Other provisions mounted swiftly too with cereals and hogs.
